State Spotlights

"We're honored to be recognized by the ENERGY STAR program for our commitment to making America's homes more sustainable. Americans are getting more educated and savvy about the benefits of energy efficiency, and are motivated by economic and environmental factors to live a more energy-efficient life. People are trending toward asking for homes with features that lower their operating costs and are built to last, and that keep them warmer, safer, healthier and more comfortable. We're privileged to have an impact on this positive movement through our partnership with ENERGY STAR." – Steve Byers, CEO of EnergyLogic.

"Habitat Denver began building with ENERGY STAR products and guidelines more than 15 years ago, and the partnership has been an institutional change that continues to evolve." – Habitat for Humanity of Metro Denver
